

Confidentiality Agreement

I accept the challenge of being authentic in this accountability group. I commit to do my best make ALL the sessions and be on time. I will actively participate in discussions and commit to be the best TEAMMATE and choose to risk disclosing personal challenges. I will keep all of the information shared in the group confidential and I will not disclose anything shared to anyone, not even my spouse. I agree to confess any sin in my life or how I grieved the Holy Spirit, so God can transform me and help me develop intimate relationships with those in the group. I understand that this may take some time to trust the other group members, yet I will strive to make self-disclosure a habit amongst these trusted friends.
